A Message from Our Rector

Dear Students,

You have successfully completed the long and arduous university preparation process. You are now making your university choices, which are the fruit of this process. As Rector of Nevşehir Hacı Bektaş Veli University, a rising star in our country adorned with Turkey's unique natural beauty, I invite you to become members of our family.

First and foremost, I would like to congratulate you, your families, and all your teachers who have contributed to your development with my warmest feelings and best wishes. All the hard work you have put in up to this point in your lives is crowned by your admission to university, and as members of a university, you are embarking on a new chapter that will leave its mark on your lives until the very end. We are firmly by your side at this juncture to help you realise your future plans.

Our Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences is a well-established faculty with a history dating back to 1997, having provided education for over 20 years. You will receive an education of the standard required by the modern world across the seven departments within our faculty. I invite you to become a valued member of our community, supported throughout your academic journey by our qualified, energetic and dedicated academic staff. Located in Nevşehir—one of Turkey's key tourism hubs, renowned for its unique natural beauty and easily accessible from every city in the country—we will accompany you on your life's journey with our robust infrastructure, state-of-the-art facilities and highly competent academic staff. University life requires personal development, the chance to have fun when appropriate, and active participation throughout the process. As a young university, we are here to support you through this journey with all our dynamism.

This introductory guide, prepared by our Faculty to assist you during the application process, contains the essential basic information about our departments. I look forward to welcoming you to Nevşehir Hacı Bektaş Veli University as healthy, happy and successful individuals, and I would like to say "Welcome" to each and every one of you in advance.

With warm regards...

Prof. Dr. Semih AKTEKİN

A Message from the Dean

Dear Students,

I would like to congratulate you on taking your first step by choosing the Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences at Nevşehir Hacı Bektaş Veli University; I can feel your excitement just as I did during my own student years. As an institution that will help shape your future aspirations and lay the foundations for your life after university, our faculty was established in 1997 as part of Erciyes University and has continued its educational activities within Nevşehir Hacı Bektaş Veli University since 2007.

Operating within a student-centred university philosophy that is fully integrated with its surroundings, our dynamic and well-equipped academic staff embraces an approach that ensures you, the young people who are the guarantee of our future, remain connected to your heritage whilst understanding the present and preparing for the future. Our curriculum, carefully designed in line with the latest developments in science, has for years placed our students in a competitive position within both the private and public sectors.

The Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences comprises six departments: Business Administration, Economics, Public Administration, International Relations, Banking and Finance, and International Trade and Logistics, as well as an English-taught International Relations undergraduate programme. A total of 2,203 students are currently enrolled in our full-time and part-time undergraduate programmes. In addition, our graduates wishing to pursue further higher education may apply for thesis-based and non-thesis master's and doctoral programmes under the Institute of Social Sciences. Furthermore, successful students are offered opportunities for student exchanges with various universities both domestically and abroad through the EU's Erasmus & Socrates and Farabi programmes. Thanks to both the quality of our education and the significant location of the Cappadocia region, our Faculty attracts international students from Poland, Lithuania, Kyrgyzstan, Afghanistan, Azerbaijan, Turkmenistan, Uzbekistan and certain regions of Africa, providing all our students with a university experience in a multicultural environment.

We look forward to welcoming you among us and, together, walking towards success in the light of science; I wish you all a healthy, happy and successful future...

Prof. Dr. İlhan GÜLLÜ

Cappadocia

Nevşehir Hacı Bektaş Veli University is situated in the Cappadocia Region, which carries the traces of civilisations spanning thousands of years into the present day. Cappadocia, the ‘Land of Beautiful Horses’ where nature and history merge, is renowned for its traditional cave houses carved into the rock, fairy chimneys, ancient churches adorned with frescoes, and many other natural wonders. Listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site, Cappadocia—with its enchanting landscape and unique historical monuments—is a jewel of the world. It offers our students the opportunity to stay in a peaceful, safe and beautiful region, allowing them to focus on their studies whilst enjoying a pleasant student life through social activities.

HISTORY OF THE FACULTY

The Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences (İİBF) was first established in 1997 as part of Erciyes University, and subsequently continued its activities under this name following the establishment of Nevşehir Hacı Bektaş Veli University in 2007. Having hosted significant academic events such as the 1st Central Anatolia Congress (International Business Congress), the 13th International Marketing Congress, and the Nevşehir Flour Industry Symposium, our Faculty continues its educational activities through the Departments of Finance and Banking, Economics, Business Administration, Public Administration, International Relations, International Trade, and Logistics.

Why choose our Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences?

Educational activities at our Faculty are based on the philosophy of “Striving for the Better; Evaluating the Past, Understanding the Present and Planning for the Future”.

Within this framework, our students are educated on the principle of sharing the scientific knowledge gained through economics and business studies, along with its multiplier effect.

This principle is supported by the unity of research and teaching, which are the fundamental functions of the university identity. Our graduates are equipped not only to secure employment in key career fields but also with the ability to establish independent businesses and pursue entrepreneurship.

Career Opportunities After Graduation

Our Faculty has adopted the mission of training managerial candidates and entrepreneurs for the private sector. Graduates have employment opportunities in the private sector in fields such as independent accountancy and financial consultancy, banks and financial institutions, insurance companies, public relations, human resources, media, sales and marketing, advertising, and business management.

In the public sector, opportunities include District Governor’s Offices, Administrative Court Judgeships, Ministry Inspection Boards and Ministry Inspectorates, Accounting Expertise, Revenue Control, Auditing, Assistant State Personnel Expert, Assistant Treasury and Foreign Trade Expert, Assistant State Planning Organisation Expert, Auditor at the Prime Minister’s High Audit Board, and Professional Officer at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

OUR DEPARTMENTS

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE AND BANKING

The aim of the Department of Banking and Finance is to combine theoretical knowledge with practical applications in the fields of banking and finance; to provide students with the opportunity to learn about the changes and developments taking place in the banking and finance sector; and thereby to contribute to the development of the specialist human resources required by the sector. In line with this, by conveying the latest developments and professional practices, the aim is to equip students with the ability to reason, question, investigate, think numerically, analyse, interpret and apply; and to cultivate individuals who can make appropriate and sound decisions, implement those decisions and monitor their implementation.

Career Opportunities After Graduation

Graduates of the Department may be employed at the Central Bank of the Republic of Turkey, the Undersecretariat of the Treasury, the Ministry of Finance, the State Planning Organisation, Borsa Istanbul, the Capital Markets Board, the Banking Regulation and Supervision Agency, commercial banks, participation banks and other financial institutions. Our graduates are employed in the public sector primarily in supervisory and auditing roles, such as specialist, auditor or assistant inspector; whilst in the private sector, they are employed in technical fields such as product pricing and development, sales, investment, planning and marketing.

DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS

Every individual continues to live by making choices at every moment of their life. Economics is the science of choice and explains how to make the most beneficial choice. In a life built on choices, the science of economics emerges as a vital tool for making the most appropriate choices, particularly in the economy.

From the decisions an individual makes in their daily life to political decisions that directly influence the fate of nations, and from scientific developments to laws, almost every aspect of human life is closely related to the science of economics. Thanks to economics, you can not only understand economic and political developments in daily life but also ensure effectiveness in the economic decisions you make regarding shaping your future.

The Department of Economics, which has been providing education since the 2001–2002 academic year, offers students a modern economics education, drawing on both the experience of our teaching staff and the department's institutional expertise. In addition to core and advanced economics courses, our students take courses in law, finance, accounting, information technology, statistics and econometrics. Alongside these courses, foreign language courses designed for both academic and everyday life are also included in the programme.

Career Opportunities After Graduation

Graduates of the Economics Department may choose an academic career, or pursue careers in the private sector and public institutions, particularly in banks and financial institutions, as well as in firms operating in the production and service sectors within the private sector. Our graduates have the opportunity to pursue careers in prestigious public institutions such as the Central Bank, the Undersecretariat of the Treasury, the Ministry of Economy, the Capital Markets Board, the Banking Regulation and Supervision Agency, and the Ministry of Finance.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION DEPARTMENT

The Department of Business aims to graduate students as entrepreneurial, productive and globally-minded individuals by equipping them with analytical skills and innovative perspectives on problem-solving. In line with this objective, the Department of Business Administration's vision is to transform lives for a better world, enrich intellectual development, and educate leaders through knowledge leadership in education, research, creativity, and entrepreneurship within higher education.

Career Opportunities After Graduation

The Department of Business Administration trains prospective managers and entrepreneurs who can analyse the challenges they face in the business world using contemporary management approaches, provide rational and scientific solutions to these challenges, are equipped with the knowledge to establish their own businesses, can make decisions based on scientific data, and are open to contemporary ideas and developments. Furthermore, our graduates can find numerous employment opportunities in the public sector and at universities.

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION DEPARTMENT

The primary aim of our department is to train well-equipped individuals who possess the knowledge to serve not only in the public sector but also in the private sector, and who are capable of applying their knowledge in practice. In line with the objective of training qualified managers, a wide range of specialist public administration courses are offered during the educational process. These courses examine Turkey's socio-economic, political and administrative structure and its challenges through theoretical and analytical approaches, and aim to equip students with the skills to understand, question and evaluate political developments from a critical perspective. In addition, various courses are offered in other relevant disciplines, particularly in the fields of business administration, economics and finance.

Career Opportunities After Graduation

The Department of Public Administration aims to prepare its graduates for careers in both the public and private sectors. In addition to government agencies and local authority administrative units, non-profit organisations such as social service organisations, consultancy firms, and private organisations engaged in public policy also offer employment opportunities for graduates of the Department of Public Administration

DEPARTMENT OF INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

The Department of International Relations offers a programme grounded in the fundamental conceptual and theoretical framework of the discipline of International Relations, which follows global politics and is supported by knowledge of history, law, economics, political science, sociology and technology, in line with the interdisciplinary nature of the field. Within this framework, the programme aims to equip students with the knowledge and skills to comprehend and analyse national and international developments within the globalising international system, using scientific methods and in the light of history; and to provide them with a level of English proficiency sufficient to follow not only national sources but also literature in foreign languages in order to achieve this objective.

Career Opportunities After Graduation

Our graduates can work in various ministries, including the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, the Ministry of the Interior, the Ministry of Finance, the Ministry of Customs and Trade, and the Ministry of Culture and Tourism, as well as in mass media organisations and banks; they may also hold positions in senior levels of the state bureaucracy, such as the Undersecretariats of the Treasury and Foreign Trade. Similarly, our students, who are trained in international economic and commercial relations, have employment opportunities across all sectors of the private sector.

DEPARTMENT OF INTERNATIONAL TRADE AND LOGISTICS

The International Trade and Logistics Programme is an integrated programme covering topics such as inventory, transport, storage and packaging, and generally encompasses economics and business courses including economics, import and export practices, logistics, accounting, marketing and foreign trade operations. During their studies, our students take courses primarily in international trade, logistics, import-export management, customs procedures, supply chain management and e-commerce applications, as well as courses in business administration, economics, finance, accounting, marketing, law and other related fields.

Career Opportunities After Graduation

Our graduates are able to find employment not only in foreign trade and logistics firms but also in the foreign trade, finance, and logistics departments of all types of companies. Furthermore, our graduates have employment opportunities in senior management positions within public institutions such as the Ministry of Development, the Ministry of Industry and Trade, the Ministry of Labour, the Undersecretariat for Foreign Trade, and the Ministry of Finance, as well as in other civil service roles within these organisations, in addition to private sector institutions and organisations, notably the Turkish Exporters' Assembly.

MESSAGES FROM OUR ALUMNI AND STUDENTS

İpek ÇABUK HANÇER, Customer Representative at Europe Assistance Turkey, Graduation year: 2013

The four years I spent at university were very precious to me; I miss those years, the spring festivals, the events held, the camaraderie with friends – everything...

Burak ÖZMEN Assistant Commissioner, Graduation Year: 2013

Nevşehir Hacı Bektaş Veli University is the place where we opened our eyes to Cappadocia, and where Cappadocia opened its eyes to the world.

Alev ESKİOCAK, Trainee Chartered Accountant, Graduation Year: 2012

I could say that Nevşehir University was the capital of my dreams. When I think of Nevşehir University, what comes to mind are the dedicated lecturers who guided us and the warmth of a family atmosphere.

Ali KARAGÖZ, Chartered Accountant, Graduation Year: 2014

The bonds of friendship I formed at the Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences have grown steadily since graduation, playing a significant role in both my social and professional life. Furthermore, being able to reach out to my lecturers both during my student years and after graduation is of great importance to me.

Dr Mehmet ALTUNTAŞ, Assistant Professor and Director of the Vocational School at Nişantaşı University, Graduation Year: 2008

Every individual has a turning point in their life; this turning point acts like a bridge, connecting countless truths. One's career, spouse and love are shaped by this bridge. My life's bridge is Nevşehir Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences. For me, Nevşehir Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences—the true academic hub of Cappadocia, the land of beautiful horses—is synonymous with 'LIFE'.

Dr Ahmet TERZİ, Lecturer at Erciyes University, Graduation Year: 2009

The Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences means experiencing “if only” and “thank goodness”, “happiness” and “sorrow” all at once. In short, it is life itself.

Cansu KÜÇÜKARSLAN ÜNLÜ, Tax Inspector, Graduation Year: 2012

Every faculty member at the Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences is eager to share knowledge with students; alongside the high-quality academic knowledge they impart, they prepare students for the world of work. You will see that, upon completing your education at the Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences, you will be in the position you desire.

Ebru ŞENGÖNÜL, Sales Specialist at ALJ Otomotiv A.Ş., Graduation Year: 2010

For four years during my childhood... I say 'childhood' because I had only just turned 17 when I started university. I was a timid young bird, separated from my family for the first time. Those four years taught me so much; I could say that the friendships I made and everything I learnt about life were invaluable.

Dilek ÇARDAK Graduation Year: 2010, Lecturer at Nevşehir Hacı Bektaş Veli University Gülşehir Vocational School

Nevşehir Hacı Bektaş Veli University, which has been a home to me, holds great significance because it has given me the best moments of my life.

Eda VARO, 4th Year, Business Administration

Knowing that our lecturers will always be by my side and support me in my future steps is the best proof that I am studying at the right university and in the right department.

Kübra TEKTAŞ, 4th Year, Business Administration Department

I can say that the wonderful things I have achieved over the past four years stem from my intellectual pursuits, shaped by the experiences I gained from my past failures and shortcomings.
